

TOO YOUNG TO WED

THE SECRET WORLD OF CHILD BRIDES

photo by Stephanie Sinclair

Child marriage spans continents, languages, religions and castes. Over the next decade, some 100 million girls—or 25,000 girls a day—will be forced to marry before they turn 18. Some may be as young as five. Join award-winning journalists, writer Cynthia Gorney and photographer Stephanie Sinclair, as they discuss their in-depth reporting on this harmful practice based on their work featured in National Geographic, for VII photo agency and at the Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting. Moderated by Pulitzer Center Executive Director Jon Sawyer.

APRIL 5, 2012 7:30 PM

BRYAN JR. AUDITORIUM
GUILFORD COLLEGE
5800 WEST FRIENDLY AVE.
GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA
ADMISSION IS FREE

Presented By
Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting
Guilford College

For more information please contact: Ty Buckner (rbuckner@guilford.edu)

www.pulitzercenter.org